"Truth crushed to earth will rise again."

Mr. "W" has not yet begun the building of his stores. It was a before taking talk. We have heard such talks before.

Why don't Marion county get in the procession of truck and fruit raising? Get down to business—go at it right. Don't figure on making everything in one season.

The Paris merchant who was touched for $2500, will hereafter let the banks do that kind of business. A worthless $10,000 New York exchange is good collateral for those who don't know. The purpose was to save paying exchange, which they did.

The Lena had method in her coming to San Francisco. A parole for the war is better than meeting a Japanese war ship. Don't blame the boys for hunting some neutral port. The way it looks the Lena will not be the only Russian war ship hunting shelter and parole.

"Will Marconi Spplant the Cables?" is the interrogative title under which P. T. McGrath, in the October Cosmopolitan, gives a history of cable development from 1854 to the present jubilee year of the Atlantic cable. Among the fairy-tales of science there is none more wonderful than that of the electric telegraph, and its most fascinating chapter relates to the submarine cable. Whether the latter ever will be superseded by a system which requires no wires, is a question which cannot yet be answered, and Mr. McGrath shows becoming regard for the cable's jubilee by seeming to give it at least the benefit of the doubt.

Judge Parker's Letter.

As every document coming from Judge Parker, his letter is frank, plain, conservative and free from ambiguity. He answers square and straight. No dodging, no evading, no big "I's." His reverence for the Constitution is seen throughout his entire letter. His every act as president will have a backing, which cannot and will not be questioned. He accepted the grand-stand challenge of the president with the coolness of the true knight and holds back the challenge with a constitutional sand bag which sent the chief squarely to grass. There is no issue before the people but what Judge Parker has met and answered with frankness and sincerity that can but be gratifying to the independent vote which is cast, after mature thought every fact weighed in the most exact balance. The thoughtful and conservative element of the country wants a man whom they regard as dead safe. They don't want to be kept on the high stool of expectancy all the time. It is too great a strain. It has already brought the country to severe attack of nervous prostration. Now, that the campaign is on, the fun will begin. So far it has been apparently a funeral or dead march. Now we look for something grand and devilish, such as "hell broke loose in Georgia."

Those who have not heard of Karl Edwin Harriman will know him favorably after reading his "complete novel" in the October Lippincott's Magazine. It is called "A Lad's Love," and does for the fisher-folks of Michigan what some recent fictionists have been doing for the West. His story is a sweet love-idyl of every day people, and brings out the great principle that romance is not dead if knighthood is.

We have notice from Jno. T. Bonner, secty. Tyler Commercial Club, in which they invite and urge all associations to send delegates to meet with the State Convention of Fruit and Truck Growers Association that will be held in Tyler Oct. 6, 7. Our county should be represented.
